NEW TRIAL IN WILL CASE IS REFUSED BY JUDGE NEWELL

Judge Newell Overrules Motion for a New Trial in the Sphar Will Case and It Will Be Carried to the Court of Appeals.

One of the last acts of Circuit Judge C. D. Newell before closing the fall term of the Mason Circuit Court on Saturday was to overrule the motion of the defenders of the will of the late A. C. Sphar for a new trial of the case.

This case was one of the hardest fought in the history of Mason county and probably created more local interest than any suit brought in many years. It involved the entire estate of the late A. C. Sphar, wealthy brick manufacturer and its hearing in the local court consumed much time during which more than a half-hundred witnesses were questioned.

Immediately following the jury's verdict breaking the will and turning the fortune back to the blood relatives of the late A. C. Sphar, the attorneys representing the defenders of the will, served notice of their intention to ask a new trial. Formal motion was filed within a short time and a supplementary motion was filed a few weeks ago.

On Saturday Judge Newell heard arguments in the case and read affidavits filed by the defenders of the will, after which he reached his decision denying a re-hearing of the case. The defenders of the will were then given an appeal to the Court of Appeals of Kentucky and given until the tenth day of January to file a transcript of the evidence and their bill of exceptions. This extra length of time was granted by the court because of the amount of evidence to be copied by the official stenographer.

WHAT YOU'LL SEE IN "THE FACE AT YOUR WINDOW."

Battle between police and Ivan's gang in Labor hall. City in the hands of a mob; wild scenes in streets; the reading of proclamation nationalizing women; burning of iron works by mob; heacons on hilltops call American Legion men from distant towns; the white crusaders rush into the city; little Dot's tragic leap from the cliff; and many other thrills at the Pastime Wednesday.

WOMEN'S MISSIONARY MEETING HELD HERE

Women's Missionary Conference of Presbyterian Synod of Kentucky Will Be Held Here This Week.

Women of Maysville interested in the work of women in missionary endeavors will be given a "rural treat" here this week when the Synodical Women's Home and Foreign Missionary Union of the Synod of Kentucky, Presbyterian church, meets in this city on Wednesday and Thursday of this week at the First Presbyterian church.

Some of the leaders in the missionary societies of the Presbyterian church will be in Maysville to address the conference and all of the meetings will be open to the public and prove quite interesting to all who desire to attend.

The conference opens on next Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock and will continue during the day and a night meeting will also be held. The sessions will be concluded on Thursday.

SQUARE DEAL SALE GOES ON

Because the Big Cash Sale was to have ended Saturday night, the Square Deal Man decided to have the drawing for the Chevrolet Touring car Thursday, October 20, at 3 o'clock.

That all friends and patrons of the Square Deal Store may have a chance at the big prize, sale prices on everything in the store will continue until that date.

Here's your opportunity to buy your needs at unheard of prices.

FORMER LOCAL PASTOR PUSHES GAMBLING QUERY

Rev. Overley, Rev. Harvey and Mayor Herman Appear Before Alexandria Grand Jury on Monday.

"We will present our facts to the new grand jury, seeking the indictment of two county officials and one city official," said the Rev. E. H. Overley, pastor of the Grace M. E. church, Newport, Ky., Monday, at Alexandria, Ky., where he was waiting to be summoned as a witness before the grand jury impaneled by Judge Otto Wolff of the Campbell County Circuit Court.

Dr. Overley was accompanied by the Rev. W. B. Harvey of the First Baptist church, Newport, who also said he will testify against three officials in an effort to have indictments returned.

Joseph Hermann, mayor of Newport who was indicted by the grand jury in Newport last week on a charge of nonfeasance in office, appeared in Alexandria with what he termed were "police betting slips." He charges that a handbook was operated for months in the Newport police headquarters and that its operations amounted to more than $1,500 a week.

GOVERNMENT TO FIGHT PROPOSED RAILROAD STRIKE

Federal Officials Intimate That Trains Will Be Kept Running in the Event of a Strike.

Washington, Oct. 17. — The federal government will keep the railroads in operation.

This was the definite assurance that came today from a high administration official, as President Harding and other government leaders renewed attempts to avert a nation-wide rail strike.

A feeling pervades official Washington that the strike will not materialize on an extensive scale, but at the same time the government realizes that transportation lines must be kept in operation, whatever happens, because the existence of millions of persons depends upon them.

The federal government has as yet framed no program of action. Whether the government would seize the roads in case the strike call is not rescinded and the walkout begins, no prominent official would say.

From President Harding down, officials were trying to devise practical means of:

1. Preventing the strike of railroad workers, or,

2. Making such preparations that the general public and the government shall suffer as little as possible as a result of the strike.

Harding had two sets of experts at work today gathering information as the basis of proposals which he may make to the railroads and their employees. These proposals, if made, will be of a nature to obtain the support of American public opinion generally, and this will be counted on to force both the railroad executives and their employees to accept them.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Binck and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Starr, of Mt. Carmel, Ind., were here Monday. Messrs. Black and Starr are well known mule buyers and went to the county Monday to purchase a number of animals.

Mrs. Lizzie Cushman, former resident of Mason county, died Saturday at her home in Louisville after a short illness. Burial will be made in Hopkinsville Monday.

Mrs. R. K. Hoeftle and daughters, Mary Esther and Edith, will arrive Wednesday from Asheville, N. C., where they have been for fifteen months.

JUDGE COCHRAN BEGINS 21st YEAR AS FEDERAL JUDGE

Judge Cochran Opens Court In Covington Monday on the Twenty-first Anniversary as Federal Judge.

Monday's edition of the Cincinnati Commercial-Tribune says:

Time and expense do not deter "Uncle Sam" when witnesses are needed in his courts. Preparatory to the convening of the United States District Court Monday morning in Covington it became necessary a few days ago for Colonel H. M. Cox, United States Marshal, to summon a witness who resides in Los Angeles, Cal., to testify in a white slave case.

Other witnesses were summoned from Philadelphia, Cleveland, Chicago and Detroit. Judge A. M. J. Cochran, Maysville, Ky., will begin his twenty-first year as Judge of his court. He was appointed by the late President McKinley, who died before Judge Cochran's appointment was confirmed by the United States Senate. President Roosevelt immediately reappointed Judge Cochran.

Judge Cochran has held three regular and many special terms of court each year in Covington, which is the seat of the Eastern District of Kentucky.

The docket contains fifty-four civil suits to which will be added a large number of indictments to be returned by the grand jury, mostly violations of the national prohibition laws.

Under a recent decision handed down by Judge Cochran, violators of the prohibition laws can be prosecuted in criminal and in civil suits. They must pay the revenue taxes and fines for liquor found in their possession, and upon failure to do so the government may levy on any property they possess for the tax and penalties.

"Bootleggers" possessing property, it is predicted, will become scarcer since this decision was handed down. They can be prosecuted under the criminal law even after their property has been sold by the government.

SISTER OF LOCAL WOMAN DIES.

The following is from the death column of the Cincinnati Enquirer Sunday:

DAIKER — Catherine Dalker (nee Fey), widow of John Dalker, Saturday October 15, 1921, at 2 a. m., in her 71st year. Funeral from her late residence, 1864 Westwood avenue, Tuesday, October 18, at 8 a. m., at St. Bonaventura's church at 8:30. Members of the Married Ladies' Society take notice.

The deceased is a sister of Mrs. William Vogel, of this city.

BOOTS RELEASED ON BOND.

Gerald Boots, held for several weeks in the local jail for the Lewis county authorities on a charge of manslaughter, was released on bond last week, his bond having been reduced from $5,000 to $2,000 which was promptly given. The young man returned to his home in Lewis county.

RETAIL PRICES DROP 1.1 PER CENT. IN SEPTEMBER

Twenty-five Per Cent. Decrease In Year; Bureau Reports Wholesale Index for Month Same.

Washington, Oct. 17. — Wholesale prices in September remained unchanged from August levels, the Labor Department reported today, but retail food prices were found to have decreased 1.1 per cent. The estimates are compiled from reports made to its statistical bureau concerning prices in 51 principal cities.

The department's wholesale price index remained unchanged at 152, though minor up-and-down changes were noted in individual commodities, which were balanced in the composite return. The index for September, 1920 was 242.

As to retail prices, the department reported that the net decrease for the year since September, 1920, amounted to 25 per cent.

MRS. GEORGE VOGEL DIES.

Mrs. Etta Vogel, wife of Mr. George Vogel, East End grocer, died at her home Saturday night in East Second street after an illness of several weeks. She is survived by her husband and five small children, George William, Christina, Evelyn and Nora and Lena, twins. The funeral will be held from the "Little Brick" church Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock with services by Rev. Crowson, the pastor. Burial will be made in the Maysville cemetery.

QUALITY and QUANTITY

HOW GOOD? That is one of the questions ever confronting the buyers of Dry Goods. The other is "How Much?" Some dealers continually harp upon the quality of their goods and try to give them a fictitious value by asking an extraordinary price. Others talk quantity only and sacrifice worth to bulk. Our plan is to give the BEST QUALITY in the LARGEST QUANTITY, more goods and better goods for a dollar than any store in town.

AS FOR EXAMPLE

- A Good CORSET for $1.00.
- An Outing GOWN for 75 Cents.
- A Four Pound BLANKET for $3.98.
- A three Pound COTTON BATT for 75 Cents.

Plenty more examples will be shown you on your personal visit to our store.

FRIENDSHIP BETWEEN U. S. AND JAPAN.

On the occasion of the recent visit of General Wood to Japan, the Japanese War Minister delivered an address in which, according to press dispatches, he spoke of the importance of friendship between the United States and Japan upon whom he declared "rests the weighty responsibility for the maintenance of peace in the Pacific and the Far East."

The words were truly spoken. Friendship between Japan and the United States is of the utmost importance, because these two nations are the only ones recognized as world powers that border the Pacific and have navies of sufficient size to make them factors in an international conflict. There can be no war of consequence on the Pacific so long as the United States and Japan agree. History would condemn for all time either nation that pursued a course that precipitated war. Injustice on the part of either nation leading to war might give a temporary advantage to the party at fault but the whole world would forever after distrust the aggressor and in the end the wrong would bring its penalty.

Merciful victors withheld a large measure of retribution in the case of Germany but ultimately the German nation and its people will pay dearly for the sins of German militarism. Even if Germany had won in the war which began in 1914, a peace dictated by her would have been but temporary.

Probably the United States could prosecute a successful war against Japan, but she would incur the enmity of all other nations if she did so without cause. Possibly Japan could start a war which by the suddenness of the attack would win a temporary advantage, but, if in the wrong, Japan would be an outcast forever after. The civilized peoples of the earth have a sense of honor which they extend to international as well as to individual dealings. War between Japan and the United States is impossible so long as each deals fairly.

HYLAN SHOWS UP OLD SHIPPING BOARD.

The political linen which is being washed in New York City sheds light on another act of maladministration on the part of the U. S. Shipping Board while under the Wilson regime. Mayor Hylan writes to Frank A. Munsey, of the N. Y. Herald, in part as follows: "Your editorial page today, and for several days, has charged the city administration, of which I am the head, with responsibility for the 'loss of four million dollars of cream which the lessees of twenty-four piers skimmed in subleases,' and failing to 'present the grafters from getting four million dollars more from those twenty-four pier leases.'"

"You know that most of this sum of money was procured from the United States Government through the United States Shipping Board during the period of the war. The Shipping Board knew that the rates it paid for the use of city piers to lessees were exorbitant, and the board could have commandeered the pier and paid a normal price for their use, had it desired to do so. The Shipping Board evidently had no such intention, for it paid the exorbitant rates to the lessees, knowing exactly what the lessees paid the City of New York and knowing that as the result of Federal Court decisions, the City of New York had no control whatever over the rates charged by lessees. Dock Commissioner Hulbert himself went to the Shipping Board office and informed them of the gross overcharges which the Shipping Board was paying, apparently of its own volition."

There seems to be no end to the derelictions of the Wilson Shipping Board for whose criminal extravagance the people of this country will be paying for years to come.

JAPAN FORTIFYING.

It is reported that Japan is rapidly fortifying some of the Pacific islands that came under her control as a result of the Versailles Treaty. One of the fortified islands is only ten-hours sail from Guam. It is also significant that these islands form a chain of outposts that leads directly to the British possession south of the Equator, and thence to Australia. Of course the development of those islands as military and naval centers is without any indication from Japan that she considers them as menaces to either the United States or Australia. Meanwhile this country is concentrating its best battleships in the Pacific, setting up airplane stations along that coast, and sending seagoing submarines to the Philippines. Presumably Australia, too, is making proper disposition of her forces. Of course Japan should see nothing more sinister in those moves than we observe in her fortification of the Pacific islands.

P. R. R. PAYROLL INCREASED 14,000.

The Pennsylvania Railroad has recently added 14,000 men to its payroll. They are to be employed in putting idle freight cars in condition for the expected heavier traffic of next winter and spring. The action of the Pennsylvania is not only an effort on the part of the road to assist in President Harding's campaign to reduce unemployment, but it is the natural outcome of the policy of the Administration to permit the railroads to fund their equipment debt to the Government. The roads have been sorely pressed for money with which to keep up maintenance of way and equipment, and in past months have been obliged to curtail expenditures for that purpose. With needed funds in hand, postponed work of that sort will be rapidly taken up, and much relief to the unemployment situation will result.

HENS FOR BREEDING BEST SELECTED NOW.

With the culling season almost over and the fatter hens removed from the flock the next important thing for poultry raisers of the state is to do in order to increase the profits from their flocks is to select the hens that are to be kept for breeders, poultry specialists say. This is the logical time of the year to select the breeders, according to J. R. Smyth, field agent in poultry from the College of Agriculture, since it is possible to distinguish them now by following the culling method whereas in the spring all birds in the flock will look alike. The hens that are laying now are the ones to keep as breeders because experience has shown that they are the heavy layers, the specialists say.

It is important that the hens to be used as breeders have large capacity which is indicated by a broad back and deep body together with high vitality which is indicated by the conformation of the birds. The back of the desirable breeder should carry its width back to the tail while the depth of the body measured between the ends of the breast and pelvic bones should be at least the width of four fingers when the hen is in laying condition.

General indications of high vitality in hens are a broad, deep head; bright, prominent eyes; long, deep body; strong parallel legs; stylish carriage and an active disposition. These are the points to look for in picking out the birds that are to be kept for breeders, the specialists say. Details of the culling method which also may be used in picking out the birds that are to be eliminated from the breeding flock are contained in Circular No. 101 which may be obtained free by writing the Experiment Station, Lexington.

Many a boy waits with tense eagerness the coming of his twelfth birthday so that he may become a Scout. In February, 1922, the Boy Scouts of America itself will enjoy its twelfth birthday. Plans are already under way in the Scout world for an adequate celebration of this event.

LIMIT ON HUNTING LICENSES ADVOCATED TO CONSERVE GAME.

During the hunting season this fall more than 5,000,000 persons, estimates the Biological Survey of the United States Department of Agriculture, will go out with a gun into the woods and fields of America. Their going emphasizes the growing need of more adequate and uniform laws to conserve and protect the country's dwindling game supply.

"It has been the practice in many states," the department says, "to issue hunting licenses for the open season to all applicants, with too little regard for the available game supply of any particular area. The hunters may for out-number the animals hunted within a given section, and under such conditions the extinction of big game especially is inevitable."

"The Department of Agriculture advocates a limited license plan for big game, based on annual estimates of game conditions in each district. This means that the number of big game licenses issued for a given area in one season would depend upon the number of game animals which it has been determined in advance can be spared. Proper administration of this sort should conserve game in the greatest numbers consistent with the reasonable demands for local grazing and other interests and obviate the necessity for establishing perennial closed seasons, except on areas being restocked."

UNUSUAL EXHIBIT OF BUTTER PACKAGES AT NAT. DAIRY SHOW.

For the same reason that a man prefers to eat his meals from a clean tablecloth he prefers to get the butter he eats in a clean attractive package—it helps him to get more enjoyment from his food and that means he really gets more value out of it, even though carelessly packed products may contain just as much food value as those that are put up carefully. The package into which butter is put is of more importance than most food packages, because the product which it holds is extremely sensitive to outside influences, especially odors. Men who have made a business of studying market conditions and methods have long given attention to the package problem and they are still at it. This year at the National Dairy Show to be held in St. Paul, Minn., October 8 to 15, the United States Department of Agriculture will have an unusual show of butter packages that will probably prove of as much interest as a lot of curios. The department has collected packages from the various countries of the world that make butter in considerable quantities, and they will be shown in comparison with packages that are used in our own country. In addition there will be samples of good and of poor packing.

THE DONS ADOPT THE DOLLAR!

Seeing that Italy discovered the American dollar the other day, and made it her fiscal basis of value in place of British pound sterling, Portugal now goes to the front with the same motion.

Well, we have the Signors and the Dons (that's right, not Dons) on our side. How long will it be before a majority of European nations adopt the American dollar as standard value instead of John Bull's pound?

The new Portuguese gold standard now going into effect will be at the rate of 11.08 to the escudo whereas the former conversion ratio was at the rate of one-half at 4.50 escudos to the pound sterling and one-half at the rate quoted weekly by the Lisbon customs, quotes Sugarman's Indicator.

New York Letter

New York. — New York is undergoing an epidemic of building. Out in the suburbs, the trades councils of several communities have sent appeals to other cities for skilled labor to meet the increasing demands for new buildings. Now houses, apartments and garages costing about $1,000,000 will soon be under construction in Yonkers, New Rochelle, Port Chester and Mt. Vernon. In Brooklyn new apartments continue to rise, while small houses are also being built. Along the Hudson in the north end of the city, great stone apartment buildings are going up rapidly, and will house many more people than the charming but expensive old English village originally planned for the site. The business section of the city is trimmer and sprucer than it has been for several years. Massive buildings of marble, cement or granite gleam white and clean as the trimmings on a new Bronx apartment. For months we have watched the armies of stone cleaners at work on skyscrapers and small shops. Down in the streets we held our breath and hurried past crisscrossing engines and clouds of fine sand that threatened our eye-sight, but we didn't mind the noise or the cleansing sand when we saw the effect. One feels actually prosperous amidst the whiteness, and the crispness of October air and the general picked-up atmosphere of the whole city.

—NY—
Vassar Alumnae are displaying with pride the valued yellow telegram that came to them here at National Headquarters the day that their salary-endowment campaign opened. It is dated "The White House" and signed by Warren G. Harding, and it reads: "My sister, a former Vassar student, has called by attention to your salary-endowment fund campaign and I must express my interest and hopes for its success. The assurance of adequate compensation to teachers is an important contribution to the development of our educational system, peculiarly necessary at this time."

It really looks as though the long skirt has fulfilled its threat and "come in." The New York stage is once again "swept"—quite literally—by trailing robes. We find Violet Kemble Cooper, who is acting with William Faversham in "The Silver Fox," moving graciously and with exquisite dignity in her long gowns of velvet. "Dulce," the exquisitely empty-headed heroine of our most amusing comedy, hardly shows her slim ankles. Along Fifth avenue, the afternoon throngs are gowning with soft fabrics of red and brown shades that make us forget to miss autumn leaves here in the city. Long panels hang almost to the ground, and blow in the wind to show far less demure underskirt than one would expect. Fifth avenue in the morning is a very different street, however. Trim business suits and tailored frocks have replaced the summer frocks with their informal cut. There is no luxurious length in these suits, and their wearers can climb the steps of a bus with ease, and swing briskly along to their offices. The New York business woman is an independent person, and wears what is most convenient. Moreover, no stage shows the kind of suit she wears for everyday. It isn't ornamental enough, and refuses to lend itself to rich materials. So she is mistress of her chosen style, and refuses at the present time to hamper herself with a modishly long street skirt.

"Gentlemen Invited" announces a card in a Washington street tea-room. It seems that young business women in that district were waving between lunch-room attractions. They greatly preferred this shop and its counter-parts, because the walls were decorated with impressionistic parrots and peculiar land-scapes, because soup was served in fat little bowls with stripes around them, and they could have crumpets and good tea. Nevertheless they persisted in drifting to the glittering pancake palaces, where they drank, boiled tea with a shudder. You see, they like to have men around them when they lunch. What use is there in wearing your hat with the orange plume if no one sees it but a lot of other girls with feathers drooping in their eyes? Then there was the waitress question, which had a lot to do with putting that sign in the window. It is dangerous getting beautified too thoroughly—in more ways than one. A form of chlorine gas, generated by chemicals in a "beauty" preparation she was applying to her face and neck, overcame Mrs. Frances Beck, twenty, early today in her home at 359 Hagen Avenue, Brooklyn, according to the police. She was unconscious in the bathroom when her husband found her.

—NY—
One never gets too old to make matrimonial mistakes. Mrs. Rebecca Hay Rose, 71 years old, appeared before the Supreme Court Justice the other day to ask annulment of her marriage on the ground that her husband was lazy. She testified that she discovered this fault as soon as the ceremony had been performed. And one would almost think that even a husband would have the right to be lazy at 71. I've been all my life looking to that age just for that purpose!

NATIONAL NORMALCY NOTES.
Washington. — Money is reported easier and worth-while securities are looking up. There may be sporadic fluctuations, but a firmer tone prevails generally.

The favorable effect on all sections of the country of cotton's recovery furnishes evidence of the fact the old United States is pretty closely related, commercially as well as socially. Automobiles are not the only product of this country coming down in price. Clothing, shoes, and foodstuffs, have shown signs of yielding, but not to the extent that they should, or will, once they get started right, and this seems not too far off.

The willingness of labor, in many vital callings, to accept decreases, and occasionally to suggest same, in salary is going a long way in helping things out. The public conscience and public sentiment will see to it that the cost of living is brought down for the fellow who shows a willingness, through their pay envelopes, to do their part.

The way in which treasury notes and certificates are being grabbed up, and even oversubscribed, suggests plenty of confidence yet in Uncle Sam's ability to meet his obligations.

IMPORTS ANT BEARS.
Fruit and vegetable growers of the state of Washington are interested in the importation of three ant bears, a male and two females, from Mexico. These ant bears were brought into the country recently and an attempt will be made to acclimate them. Their food is potato bugs, locusts and other insects injurious to plant life. They are gluttonous and seemingly eat all the time. The ant bear does not hibernate and the three brought to this country will spend the winter in a greenhouse, keeping down the insect population indoors.

FARMERS TO HAVE HELP IN FIGHT ON BLIGHT OF SPUDS.

In order to help farmers of the state combat the late blight of potatoes which this year resulted in heavy losses plans are already being made by the extension division of the College of Agriculture for winter and spring meetings and summer spraying demonstrations to show farmers of the state the importance of this method of controlling the disease, according to an announcement by J. S. Gardner, field agent in horticulture under whose direction the work is being carried on. Dates for meetings are being arranged on request in counties where farmers were troubled with the disease and other plans being made to assist as many growers as possible in reducing the loss which blight causes to their crops.

A number of farmers this year controlled the blight in their fields by spraying with Bordeaux mixture as many as three times during the season. Some sprayed only once while others sprayed three times. Fields which were sprayed three times have been practically free of the pest while heavy losses occurred in those which were not sprayed, according to Mr. Gardner.

SCOUT LEADERS TO MAKE EXTENDED TRIP.

Dr. George J. Fisher, Deputy Chief Scout Executive and National Field Director, accompanied by L. L. McDonald, National Camp Director will make an extended tour through the twelfth Scout district, conferring with various Scout leaders, and with Rotary and Kiwanis and other clubs who are sponsoring Scouting along the western coast. A few of the cities which will be included in the itinerary are Seattle, Spokane, Everett, Tacoma, San Francisco, Sacramento, Los Angeles, Salt Lake City, Kansas City, Chicago, and St. Paul. Camp Director, McDonald will confer with Scout leaders particularly on the subject of winter and

ACT QUICKLY

Do the right thing at the right time. Act quickly in time of danger. In time of kidney danger, Doan's Kidney Pills are most effective. Ask your neighbor.

Plenty of Maysville evidence of their worth. Fred Dressel, proprietor tailor shop, 1232 East Second street, Maysville, says: "I am glad of the opportunity to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. I was troubled with inflammation of the bladder and annoyance from my kidneys. When passing the secretions they burned terribly and often bordered on a stoppage. I had severe aching pains across the small of my back which greatly interfered with my duties. I was telling a friend how my kidneys acted and he advised me to get a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at Wood & Son's Drug Store. I began taking Doan's and they gave me prompt relief. Doan's did me lots of good and I know they are an excellent remedy."

Mr. Dressel gave the above statement February 6, 1908, and on November 22, 1920, he added: "I think just as highly of Doan's Kidney Pills today as I did when I gave my former recommendation many years ago. My cure has been a lasting one."

YOKOHAMA'S GROWTH.

"When Yokohama was first opened to trade in 1856," according to Torso Ohta, Passenger Traffic Manager of the Department of Railways of Japan, visiting in this country, "it was a fishing village of 100 huts. Today it has a population of more than 400,000 and two-fifths of Japan's foreign trade passes through it. It has as many natural qualifications for a port as New York City."

REOS TAKE HUSTLERS INTO THEIR CAMP.

Winding up the ball season in Lexington the Reos hung it on the Hustlers from Winchester Sunday to a tune of 13 to 7. The game was marked by extra base hitting including four two base hits, two three base hits and four home runs, also eleven stolen bases and eight errors. Reos were credited with 16 hits and Winchester with 9. Must have been some game. Score by innings:

FEEBLE BLOOD WORKS HAVOC

Gude's Pepto-Mangan Makes Red Blood; Liquid and Tablet Form.

When blood becomes thin and weak it is due to a falling off in the number of red blood cells. It is easily recognized by pallid skin or a bluish complexion, loss of appetite or unnatural irritability and a sensation of weakness. It is not dangerous at first. In fact, many people scarcely notice it and go on for days, thinking they will be better the next day.

The great danger is in the possibility of becoming seriously ill from disease, which can work havoc in a body that lacks the endurance and resistance in rich, red blood.

Taken in time and steadily, a few bottles of Gude's Pepto-Mangan are a great help. It improves the quality of the blood by adding red blood cells. They check the weakness, improve the appetite, and clear the complexion.

You can get Gude's Pepto-Mangan in liquid and tablet form at your druggist's. Get the genuine with the name "Gude's Pepto-Mangan" on the package.—Advertisement.
